

Denmark Royals

Queen Ingrid of Denmark has been a brownie and guide and like her mother, former Queen, later Princess Benedikte, is still very much involved in the WAGGGS and the Olave Baden-Powell Society.

Princess Benedikte is very much involved in the scout/guide organization in Denmark as well as international. As she was a child, a special scout unit was created, so she could join the guides. Now her involvement is more on the organisational level as she is chairman for Pigespejdernes fællesråd (Joint Committee of Girl Guides in Denmark). She is protektor for De grønne pigespejdere (The green girl guides, Denmark) and Det Danske Spejderkorps (The Danish Guide and Scout Association). In addition she is patron of the Olave Baden Powell Society (OB-PS), a support organisation for the international girl guide/scout organisation WAGGGS.
